Dear Colleagues

NEW REDBACK CEILING SPEAKER GRILL C 0805

Larry reports that one of your group believes the SPL is reduced when using the new grill against the old.

As you may imagine this caused us great alarm as our investment in this product is major.

We set up a standard C 2000 in a sealed box and with a TES 1350 SPL meter, measured the SPL at 1M on direct axis and 2M at 45° axis at

100Hz
200Hz
400Hz
1KHz
2KHz

We were unable to detect any tangible difference between

Speaker without grill
Speaker with C 0800 (old style)
Speaker with C 0805 (new style)

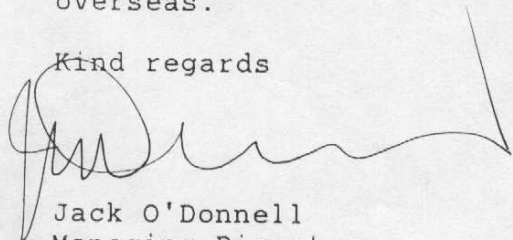

We further conducted a listening test on music and vocal programme and could not detect any attenuation with the grill.

I trust you will also come to the same conclusion should you do the same tests.

If anyone believes otherwise please call me right away.

Incidentally we are now experiencing some success with exports overseas.

Kind regards

Jack O'Donnell
Managing Director
